KEIGO TAKADA

EXECUTIVE LEADERSHIP COACH, FACILITATOR

Keigo Takada is a Tokyo-based Coach and a Trainer with more than 20 years’ experience. Keigo’s excellent communication skills and enthusiastic attitude have supported corporate training and talent development for clients in a wide range of industries, including manufacturing, IT, financial services, healthcare, pharmaceuticals, professional services, and consumer goods.

Keigo’s training style is highly interactive and engaging. Working across diverse sectors, he has developed a broad understanding of global and local business and their cultures. With each engagement, he strives to deliver collaborative training solutions that address today’s complex corporate challenges. However, Keigo knows coaching and training are about supporting people by developing their skills and helping them achieve their personal and professional goals.

Keigo’s academic achievements include a bachelor’s degree in economics from Chuo University in Tokyo and an MBA from the University of Wolverhampton in the UK. In addition to providing coaching and training to corporate partners, Keigo is also a visiting lecturer at Chuo University where he teaches university students with business skills.
